

Molotov Says Peace Efforts Unsatisfactory; Blames Yanks

Paris, Oct. 14 (AP)—The peace conference completed tonight its work on treaties, adopting the Finnish draft—last to be considered—over many objections from the United States.

Paris, Oct. 14 (AP)—Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov declared today that the results of the Paris peace conference were "unsatisfactory" and charged that it had been dominated by the United States.

Molotov remarked that only portions of the draft treaties with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland pleased Russia and indicated that many of the issues would be thrown back into the foreign ministers council where decisions must be unanimous.

He accused the United States, Great Britain and France of "violating their agreements" and "retreating" from four-power accord in the adoption of "a number of anti-Democratic measures" in connection with Trieste.

Adjourn Tuesday
He spoke critically of guarantees written into Balkan treaties for free navigation of the Danube and complained that the conference had refused to fix Bulgarian boundaries as of January, 1941—an action that would have given Bulgaria some territory from Greece.

The conference of 21 nations, taking action on the final draft treaty with Finland, prepared to adjourn tomorrow. The draft treaties then must be approved finally by the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France at meetings in New York.

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg spoke before Molotov and demanded that the Finnish reparations bill be pared from $300,000,000 to $200,000,000—a move that kindled Molotov's anger. The Michigan senator said:

"The United States will leave its motives to the verdict of history in connection with the winning of the war and the writing of a just peace. We decline to plead as defendants among allies to whom we have given every ounce of cooperation in blood and treasure of which a great nation is capable. But we shall continue to speak for the American conception of justice and fair play."

Backs Red Claim
Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin of Great Britain upheld the Russian claim to $300,000,000 from Finland.

Molotov said Vandenberg's address "made an unfavorable impression both as to his consistency and his frankness." He asserted that Russia had avoided putting "pressure" on Finland for two years but that the Western Allies had not done likewise.

"We draw the attention of Finland to the difference between a true and a scheming friendship," he said.

Molotov spoke violently against criticisms of the veto power of the five leading allied nations in the United Nations security council, saying:

"The right of veto is not involved, but a question of whether they desire unanimity and cooperation among the great countries."

Australia, Cuba and the president of the general assembly of the U. N., Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, have voiced recent criticism of the veto.

Accuses Spaak
Molotov implied that Spaak was under foreign influence.

His speech contrasted with an address earlier by Bevin, who said the peace conference, given the job of going over the drafts submitted by the foreign ministers' council, "has accomplished this task and accomplished it well."

"We look forward to the final drafting of the treaties in New York," he said.

Molotov, in accusing the United States of "dominating" a group of lesser powers "to achieve its own ends," said:

"In all votes in the conference, it was enough for the American delegate to vote and another 12 or 13 votes were assured."

Talks of Cooperation
Molotov referred also to Stalin's recent pronouncements saying he believed in the possibility of friendly cooperation with the western powers. Molotov declared:

"This is the policy to which the Soviet Union adheres."

He assailed what he termed Great Britain's "strange policy" of "playing" with Finland. He declared he wanted to "warn the representatives of Finland on this score. X X X This is the same game which brought reactionary circles to power in Finland and led to the recent war. X X X The lessons of the past ought to be learned."

Referring to Secretary of State Byrnes' insistence on an early peace conference, Molotov said "certain delegations" insisted on a conference before there was complete agreement.

"Now we are faced with the lack of preparation" which was "due to their refusal to exert themselves for a joint agreement," the Russian diplomat declared.

LICENSED TO WED
A marriage license has been issued in Carlisle to Elmer E. Brewbaker, Orrtanna R. 1, and Doris Jean Burkholder, Newville.

COUNTY NATIVE IS FOUND DEAD NEAR BALTIMORE

Mrs. Viola L. Ray, 36, of Lansdowne, (suburb of Baltimore) a native of Adams county, was found dead Sunday morning at 6:30 o'clock lying along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks not far from where she resided.

Police conducting an investigation are of the opinion that Mrs. Ray apparently was struck by a passing train. All indications pointed to Mrs. Ray having walked into the side of a train rather than being struck as one approached.

In their investigation police learned that Mrs. Ray, who worked as a waitress for the Horn and Horn restaurant in Baltimore for the last year, had left her place of employment about 6 o'clock Saturday evening. During the day she had called the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Ohler, Lansdowne, with whom she resided, to learn of the condition of her ailing son, Harold Ray. She was seen by a friend in a store purchasing candy about 11 p.m.

Funeral Here Wednesday
Police are seeking to learn where she had been between 6 and 11 o'clock, inasmuch as it was her custom to call her home if she was not going directly home following working hours.

The crossing where she was found was a four-track crossing about 20 feet from a bus stop.

Mrs. Ray was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Eyer, Cumberland township. She was previously a waitress at the Penn Harris hotel, Harrisburg, and Hotel Gettysburg.

Surviving are her parents; one son, Harold, at home; one brother, John W. Eyer, Gettysburg R. 1, and four sisters, Mrs. Ohler, with whom she resided; Mrs. Burton Witherow, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Edgar Mullen, Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Mervin Hankey, Littlestown R. 2.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh. Interment in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

'BERT' TANGER DIES ON SUNDAY

David A. "Bert" Tanger, 72, died at his home, 37 York street, Hanover, Sunday afternoon at 12:15 o'clock from a complication of diseases following a lingering illness.

The deceased was well known in Adams county. For 25 years he drove a truck for Spangler's bakery, Biglerville.

He was a son of the late David and Elizabeth (Harnish) Tanger. Mr. Tanger was a member of Emanuel Reformed church, Hanover, and the Good Samaritan lodge, F. and A. M., Gettysburg. His wife, the former Gertrude M. Thomas, died on January 13, 1942.

Surviving are two children, Frank L. Hagerstown, and Mrs. Margaret Heller, Williamsport; one grandchild; two sisters, Mrs. Eva T. Menges, Menges Mills, and Mrs. Violet T. Sheely, Hanover.

Funeral services Wednesday at 10:30 a. m., from the late home, conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Nevin E. Smith. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover, where Masonic rites will be held. Friends may call at the late home Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Please omit flowers.

Motorists Forget Holiday; Town Gains

The borough was richer today by an unestimated number of nickels and pennies which went into the parking meters Saturday, and might be classed as "unearned increment."

Police put out no tickets for meter violations Saturday, and it was not necessary to put a coin in a meter, they said, the reason—it was Columbus Day—a legal holiday.

Police said the parking meter ordinance excepted all legal holidays, so they did not check the meters. They did, however, receive several calls during the day wanting to know why tickets were not being given out for violations. Some of the calls originated with borough officials, who had forgotten that, although nearly everybody worked except those in banks and the court house, it was still Columbus Day.

PAYS SPEEDING FINE
William Buford Mea, Gainsboro, R. 4, Tenn., paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace John H. Basehor Sunday night on a charge of driving too fast for road conditions. Mea, a truck driver, was charged by borough police, with driving 65 miles an hour on York street.

Weather Forecast
Clear and not so cool tonight. Tuesday, sunny and warm.

Plenty Of Beef On Hoof Throughout The Nation

Cattle stretch to the horizon in this view of feeding pens of the Nebraska Feed Lot Company, at the southwest limits of Omaha, Neb., where the animals are held for fattening. President Truman prepared a decision on the meat control question for broadcast to the nation at 10 o'clock tonight. (AP Wirephoto) Editor's Note:—Hundreds of steers can be seen grazing in pastures all around Adams and nearby counties. Local dealers and slaughterers declare the supply is plentiful but OPA controls and price ceilings are keeping the animals from the slaughtering pens.

RECOGNITION SERVICE FOR Y-TEEN CLUBS

A recognition service for members of the new "Y-Teen" clubs at the Gettysburg YWCA was conducted Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in College Lutheran church with members, their parents and club advisers in attendance. The "Y-Teen" groups are the successors to the Girl Reserve clubs.

The service opened with a professional hymn as the girls entered the church, dressed in white. The call to worship was given by Nina Williams of the freshman club. Mrs. Howard McCarney sang "The Lord's Prayer" and responsive reading was led by Grace Williams.

The girls were formally welcomed into the Y membership in a speech by Mrs. Richard A. Brown, president of the YWCA board of directors, and Y membership cards were distributed by Mrs. Charles Ogden, board chairman of membership. A statement of the purposes and organization of the "Y-Teen" clubs was given by Patsy Sanders, president of the seventh and eighth grade groups.

Candlelight Ceremony
The formal recognition ceremony followed with Mary Group, sophomore vice president, serving as leader. The ritual was conducted by candlelight using the "Y-Teen" symbol, the triangle. New members formed one side of the triangle and their candles were lighted from the flames of the candles held by the older members.

The service outlined the purpose of the new organization as having "a common goal with that of other YWCA members—to help club members to grow as individual persons and to increase in friendship with people of all races, religions and nationalities."

The service closed with the benediction and the singing of the song "Follow the Gleam." Miss Mary Louise Spangler was organist for the service which was planned by Miss Grace Waltemyer and Mrs. Dorothy Jean Whitson. The YWCA committee for the "Y-Teen" clubs includes: Mrs. John P. Rhoads, Mrs. Whitson, Miss Waltemyer, Mrs. Norman Richardson, Miss Helen Korfauver, Miss Sara Jane Maust, Miss Ruth Bushman, Mrs. James Martin and Miss Doris Neithammer.

Oysters, Fish Available
Three stores reported oysters as "plentiful" and four stores had fish for sale.

A nearby slaughterer who supplies some local stores with meat reported to a local storekeeper this morning that he expects to start slaughtering meat tonight if the president this evening on the meat situation releases meat from OPA controls.

Most merchants and slaughterers questioned today reported their be-

Many Meatless Dinners Here Sunday; Plentiful Supply In County Fields

Most Gettysburg families were without fresh meat for Sunday dinner, although some of the more fortunate housewives who headed long queues early Saturday were able to purchase some of the limited supply placed on sale for a few hours.

Most of the local meat markets, however, were without meat Saturday.

This morning the situation brightened a little.

Two local meat markets had supplies of fresh meat, although both had sold out by noon today. One of the stores had 15 pounds of veal. It was secured according to an employee of the store, from a restaurant owner who slaughtered for his own use and sold what he estimated was not needed for his restaurant business to the meat store for its customers.

Purchase Limited Stocks
The other local store had a fairly large supply, although no estimate would be given concerning the amount. A rush of housewives who heard of the beef for sale soon ended the supply however.

One of the larger stores reported that it had not had any fresh meat for two weeks and had not had any meat of any kind with the exception of some sausage for over a week.

Estimates of cold meats on hand in nine stores visited this morning totalled 54 pounds.

One store reported that it expects to have cold ham and spiced ham Tuesday, while other stores reported that it would probably be the middle of the week before any meat would arrive.

One market was closed this morning although it was reported to have had some meat on sale last week.

One lonely chicken was seen by a reporter for The Gettysburg Times who visited the stores, although one store manager stated he expects to have a number of chickens available for sale Tuesday.

C. E. MEETING TUESDAY
The Adams County Christian Endeavor group will meet at St. James Lutheran church Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock. From the church the group will go to the National museum where they will hear the electrical map lecture on the battle of Gettysburg. Following the lecture the group will go on a short hike and return to the grove at the museum for a campfire service. In the event of rain the affair will be held Thursday evening.

Religious solace was administered by chaplains yesterday in the death cells of nine of the condemned Nazis who face execution Wednesday, but was refused by Streicher and Alfred Rosenberg, who preferred to spend their final Sabbath reading books.

Confessions from the Catholic members of the condemned group were heard by the Rev. Sixtus O'Connor. The remainder of the 18 Germans sentenced to hang or to serve prison terms were visited by the Rev. H. P. Gerecke, German Lutheran clergyman, who read prayers to them.

The convicted Nazis were told officially yesterday that the Allied Control Council, their last court of resort, had denied their appeals for clemency, or—in some cases—for death by the firing squad instead of hanging. The prisoners, most of whom had heard the news previously from their wives, took it stoically.

Nuernberg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Julius Streicher, ranking Jewbaiter number one of the Nazi regime, today urged his condemned associates to be "brave and strong" in their last 48 hours of life.

Streicher, once Gauleiter of this Nuernberg area, will hang, too, on Wednesday, but he is seemingly untouched by impending doom.

This morning the beady eyed little man, who openly advocated extermination of Jews, told a prison psychologist to be sure to impart his message to the other ten who will die with him:

"They must not be low but must be brave and strong."

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel's spirits picked up over the week-end after he received two letters from his wife, who lives in the British zone.

None of the condemned have been told as yet exactly when they will hang.

REGIONAL UNION OF HOLY NAME GROUPS MEETS

A more articulate and better informed Catholic laity to combat "subversive tendencies creeping into the American way of thought, particularly Communistic tendencies," was described Sunday as a vital necessity by a number of speakers at a quarterly meeting of the Southern Regional Union of Holy Name Societies at Fairfield.

Meeting in the St. Mary's church grove the 60 delegates from 20 Holy Name societies in as many parishes in York, Adams and Franklin counties discussed a number of ways of producing "men who can stand on their own feet and tell the Catholic side of the picture."

President, James Clancy, New Freedom, in summing up the discussion pointed out that "Communism is active, we are not. Catholics in labor unions are falling for the Communist line. The priests cannot curb all of the tendencies, it is a job for all of us to do, for we meet the ideas where it counts, in the shops and offices, among the men and women whom the priests cannot reach."

Make Plans for Activities
A suggestion by Lawrence J. Allen, York, that the Holy Name union and the local societies be the "proving grounds for development of men who can speak" was approved. Under the plan suggested by Allen the host parish at each regional meeting will have one member tell of the happenings in his own society and then speak on any subject he may wish to the entire group. "In that way we will give men a chance to develop into speakers," he added.

Plans for a special Holy Name holy hour or similar service to be held before the first of the year in each parish were outlined with final decision on the matter to be made by the Rev. Fr. William J. B. Weaver, Dallastown, diocesan Holy Name spiritual director, who was designated to arrange for the affairs.

The Rev. Fr. Cletus Hauck, Fairfield, invited the group to hold a public demonstration at Fairfield next fall with a procession to be held from Fairfield to the church grove near town where a temporary altar could be constructed and a Holy Hour held. Such demonstrations, he said had proved very successful at Mt. Carmel in the northwestern part of the state and would probably prove successful here.

Handled "Mike"
Another interesting experience for Lt. Myers came on the last day of the trials when he passed the microphone from one defendant to the next as they made their final addresses to the court.

Lt. Myers, who was married during his leave in this country, plans to return to his studies at Penn State with his wife next year.

Friends of Lt. Myers have recognized him on many of the news pictures of the courtroom scenes that have appeared in newspapers and magazines in this country.

In his letter to Professor Gruver, Lt. Myers enclosed transcript of the complete final statements of the German leaders as they were given in court.

YOUTH GROUPS ARE FORMED
Two young peoples' groups have been organized at the Presbyterian church here and are holding regular meetings each Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the church.

The senior group, which has taken the name of "Tuxis," meaning "You and I Training For Service With Christ in the Center of Life," is headed by Sally Poppay as president. Stuart Kleinfelter is vice president and William Tipton is secretary-treasurer. James Bracey, Scott Mountain and Betty Ketterman are on the program committee and Dale Scott, Doris Weaver, Janice Gigous and Helen Flohr form the social committee. Those two committees have charge of arrangements for next Sunday's meeting. Janice Gigous and Stuart Kleinfelter were in charge of the supper meeting Sunday evening.

The junior group, using the name "Ky-Ro-Nika," meaning "Christ the Victor," has selected Nellie Larson as president. Marcia Hoy is vice president; Paul Ketterman, Jr., secretary, and Kenneth Shultz, treasurer. Their topic for Sunday evening's meeting was "Do You Know How to Use the Bible?"

There are 17 enrolled in Tuxis and 12 in Ky-Ro-Nika.

Democratic Rally In McSherrystown
A political meeting sponsored by the Adams county Democratic committee, will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Knights of Columbus home in McSherrystown. A state speaker will be present as well as all the local candidates.

The Democratic executive committee of the county will meet at the courthouse Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Two Cars Collide At Heidlersburg

No one was injured and damage totalled $45 when two cars collided Saturday evening in Heidlersburg at the intersection of the Biglerville-Heidlersburg road and the Harrisburg road.

State police who investigated said that William S. Spicer, Gettysburg R. 4, driving south on the Harrisburg road, stopped at the intersection to allow a passenger in his car to alight. As he pulled out from the side of the road he was struck by a car driven by Alfred Greer, Brooklyn, N. Y., also going south on the Harrisburg road. No charges were laid.

EAST BERLIN HI GRAD GUARDED NAZIS IN COURT

Lt. George W. Myers, East Berlin high school graduate in the class of 1941, as an escort officer for the 21 top Nazis at their war crimes trial at Nuernberg, Germany, got a thrill from the important role he played in the history-making proceedings there.

In a letter to Professor Elmer M. Gruver, East Berlin high school principal, Lieutenant Myers said:

"When I reported to the Third Army headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany, after returning from my leave and school at home, I thought I was really in on something big last December when I was a general's aide at Gen. George S. Patton's funeral, but that was nothing compared to this."

Lieutenant Myers was assigned to the 6850th Internal Security Detachment of the International Military Tribunal.

Talked With Top Nazis
The young officer's letter disclosed that he spent "a lot of time" in the Palace of Justice during the trial of the 21 top Nazi war criminals.

While court was in session, Myers was there on duty and on August 31, the final day of the trials, he heard most of the final speeches of the defendants.

"Most of the defendants speak very good English," he wrote. "I've spoken to Goering, Hess, Ribbentrop, Doenitz, von Papen, Raeder and Speer on numerous occasions. I've gotten Hess's signature already and hope to get them all before they leave us. It is hard to believe that nearly every day for at least one hour I was in complete control of the 21 men who only a few years ago ruled most of Europe."

Myers added that he also has conversed with the senior American judge on the high tribunal, after Chief Justice Jackson left, Attorney General Francis Biddle. The young officer has sent his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, Thomasville, R. D., Paradise township, pictures taken in the courtroom that show him and the top Nazis.

Another interesting experience for Lt. Myers came on the last day of the trials when he passed the microphone from one defendant to the next as they made their final addresses to the court.

Lt. Myers, who was married during his leave in this country, plans to return to his studies at Penn State with his wife next year.

Friends of Lt. Myers have recognized him on many of the news pictures of the courtroom scenes that have appeared in newspapers and magazines in this country.

In his letter to Professor Gruver, Lt. Myers enclosed transcript of the complete final statements of the German leaders as they were given in court.

SLASHES ARMS, BREAKS LEG IN LEAP BUT LIVES

State and McSherrystown borough police today continued investigation of what they termed a suicide attempt by John E. Hartlaub, 68-year-old McSherrystown resident, on Sunday afternoon. Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff, head of the local substation of the state police, and McSherrystown Chief Manard Masemer are jointly conducting the investigation.

Sergeant Duhrkoff said this morning that statements by Hartlaub that he slashed his wrists, left arm and throat in the kitchen of his home, 210 North street, McSherrystown, sometime prior to 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon were borne out by bloodstains in the kitchen.

According to the state policeman, Hartlaub used a straight razor to slash himself in the kitchen, then, in his barefoot, went upstairs to a bedroom where he threw himself down on a bed. Later he went, police say, to the attic of the house and leaped from a window, landing in a driveway beside the home.

In Fair Condition
In the fall he broke his right leg and suffered a possible fracture of the left leg, according to an examination made at the Hanover hospital where Hartlaub was said to be in "fair" condition today.

Several children playing near the Hartlaub home saw the man's huddled body in the driveway and ran to the home of John A. Hartlaub, a nephew, who lived nearby.

The nephew and neighbors gathered at the scene called Dr. Anthony A. Tananis, of McSherrystown, who treated Hartlaub and called for the Hanover ambulance. Removed to the hospital he was reported as telling the officers during their investigation this morning that he attempted to commit suicide because he was "tired of living."

Hartlaub was said to have lived alone at the house since the death of his mother a number of years ago. He is employed at a cigar factory in McSherrystown but had been unable to work for several days last week because of illness.

Littlestown WESTMINSTER GIRL MISSING FOR ONE WEEK
Miss Ilo Leadford, 22-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Washington Leadford, Westminster, R. D. 1, has been missing since last Monday noon, according to information furnished the Littlestown police department by the girl's parents Sunday. The young woman had been in Littlestown Monday noon to seek employment at the Littlestown box factory, and has not been seen nor heard of since.

At the time of her disappearance, Miss Leadford was wearing a green dress, brown shoes, and a black and white checkered coat. She wore no hat. She has dark brown hair and brown eyes; is five feet, eight inches tall and weighs 160 pounds.

State police were furnished a description of the girl, which was broadcast over the teletype system. Any one knowing anything about the whereabouts of the girl is asked to contact the Littlestown Police Department or the Pennsylvania State Police.

The first in a series of community vespers sponsored by the Littlestown ministerium was held Sunday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran church, in charge of Rev. David S. Kammerer. The service was largely attended. Rev. C. B. Rebert led the responsive reading and Rev. (Please Turn to Page 5)

Game Tonight Rain Or Shine
Regardless of the weather tonight the Gettysburg high school will clash with Waynesboro high school on the local gridiron at 8 o'clock.

Twice postponed by inclement weather on Friday and Saturday nights, the tilt must be played tonight inasmuch as the Maroons are scheduled to play a pair of South Penn conference games within five days this week. On Friday afternoon the Forney-men will play at Shippensburg, the game having been moved up from its original scheduled date of Saturday.

Tonight's affair appears as a toss-up and should prove to be a close, hard battle all the way. Gates to the field will open at 7 o'clock.

MEAT EATERS
AWAIT TRUMAN
TALK TONIGHT

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Housewives scurrying for meat and politicians for votes cocked an ear to the White House for President Truman's decision tonight on what to do about getting steaks and roasts back.

Hours before the chief executive's all-network broadcast set for 10 p. m., eastern standard time, the Republican party termed the scheduled address "political" and demanded radio time to reply.

While there was no clear-cut indication what Mr. Truman plans to say in his 15-minute discussion of stabilization and the meat problem, the issue before him boiled down to this:

Whether to scrap meat controls outright, as many Republicans and some Democratic leaders have demanded, or keep them unchanged.

Favors Controls

Or, whether to compromise on some relaxation of control involving perhaps higher ceilings, a bonus plan to induce marketing of livestock, and possibly importation of meat.

Mr. Truman is on record as firmly opposed to removal of OPA controls. He took this stand September 26, but at a news conference last week he declined to comment when asked whether he had changed his mind.

One indication that he may have come from a high official who is familiar with the problem. He hinted to a reporter that top aides helping prepare Mr. Truman's speech met at the White House last night and that decontrol of meat is in the picture.

There has been speculation, moreover, that Mr. Truman might deal with wage controls, too, and possibly scrap that program.

On the other hand, among those playing an active part in drafting the president's statement are OPA Administrator Paul Porter and reconversion Director John R. Steelman.

Porter has openly opposed removal of meat controls. Steelman, on the subject of controls generally, recently said that to "let prices go" would be the "worst possible" course.

GOP Scoffs Talk

The GOP contention that Mr. Truman's address "will be political" came from Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee.

"Just three weeks before a crucial congressional election," Reece said in a statement, "Mr. Truman has chosen to tie up most of the nation's radio facilities with an explanation of his administration's so-called stabilization program, with particular reference to the stabilized shortage of meat. Whatever may be the form of his explanation, its substance and its obvious political purpose will be political."

"If Mr. Truman has in mind some action to solve the meat problem—and it is to be hoped that he has—he can take that action at his desk in the White House, where it could have been taken many weeks ago. x x x"

Frying Pan Victim

Held As Disorderly

A South Washington street man, John Shaner, 39, was cut on the top of his head during an altercation at his home late Saturday night, and later arrested by borough police on a disorderly conduct charge. He was released from jail Sunday on $10 forfeit bail. The charge was to be laid before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Shaner's wound, a gash which required three stitches at the Warner hospital, was inflicted by a frying pan wielded by Shaner's wife, police said. They received two calls, the first at 9:30 p. m., when one of the Shaner children told officers at police headquarters that Shaner was drunk and fighting, according to the report. When they got to the house, Mrs. Shaner told Chief Robert C. Harpster and Officer Clark W. Staley that her husband had left.

The second call was at 11 o'clock. Officers Staley and Albert Wolford found Shaner outside the house with blood flowing from the wound. They took him to jail and then to the hospital. After treatment he was locked up again until his release Sunday.

DELONE GAINS

7-0 GRID WIN

Amassing a 16 to 4 advantage in first downs and dominating the play throughout, Delone Catholic high, of McSherrystown, defeated Shenandoah Catholic high, 7 to 0, at Shenandoah Saturday.

The final score is hardly a fair indication of Delone's superiority, as except for one brief threat by Shenandoah the game was played almost entirely in the local's territory. Despite the precarious footing, on a field thoroughly drenched by three successive days of rain, and the slippery condition of the ball the Delone backs consistently ripped off good gains to roll up eight first downs in each half.

Delone's first threat came in the opening period when the visitors drove to the Shenandoah five-yard line. A fourth-down try missed by inches to register a score and the locals took over possession of the ball.

A thirty-eight yard sustained drive netted the Delone touchdown in the second period. Bill Noel, Bennett and Rider alternated in carrying the ball during the drive in which Delone tossed only one pass. Rider plunged over from the seven-yard line for the touchdown. He battered his way through center a few seconds later to add the extra point.

In the second half Shenandoah intercepted a Delone pass to take possession of the ball and then completed a long aerial on its own half to move to the visitors' 18-yard line. Delone tightened and the locals' one and only threat stalled on the 18 as two running plays failed to gain and two passes fell incomplete.

GEN. STILWELL
DIES SATURDAY

San Francisco, Oct. 14 (AP)—Illness complicated by an ailment he probably contracted in the Burma jungles has ended the career of peppy, plain-spoken General Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of the Sixth Army.

The officer who was not too proud to admit that "we took a hell of a beating" in the 1942 retreat from Burma died Saturday in Letterman General hospital of cancer of the liver, complicated by an amoebic abscess he was believed to have suffered in jungle fighting.

He entered the hospital September 27 for a routine checkup. He underwent an operation October 3, and his condition became critical the middle of last week. He died in his sleep, peacefully, in contrast with his life of violent combat in World Wars I and II.

At the presidio of San Francisco, the flag flew at half staff and cannon boomed a salute at half-hour intervals from reveille to retreat.

The army announced that after private services to be attended only by members of the family, General Stilwell's ashes, in accordance with his wishes, will be flown Wednesday over his home at Carmel, and then scattered over the Pacific ocean.

Bullets Lace Lafayette Eleven 27-14 At Easton For 2nd Win Of Season

Showing a complete reversal of form from the previous week's exhibition, Coach "Hen" Bream's Gettysburg college gridders pulled somewhat of a surprise Saturday afternoon by lacing Lafayette at Easton 27-14 before a crowd of 5,000 fans. Playing conditions were good and no rain fell during the tilt.

The Bullets were forced to come from behind to win after the Leopards took a 7-0 lead early in the game.

Early in the opening period the Bullets had possession of the ball and attempted a pass but Cervino's toss was intercepted by Dutrey on the Lafayette 35-yard line. He ran to the Gettysburg 35 and then later latched to Hackett who went to the 5 before being spilled. The Bullets held for three downs but on the last try Loiacano pushed over for a score and Germusa booted the extra point on a placement.

A fumble deep in Lafayette territory set the stage for the Breammen to tie the count later in the quarter. Attempting to pass from his own 10, Stanczak fumbled and the Bullets recovered. After two tries gained five yards, Cervino whipped a short toss to Constable in the end zone for the tally. Cervino booted the first of his three extra points to knot the score.

Another Lafayette fumble in the second period gave the Bullets another chance for a score and they quickly capitalized. The fumble was recovered on the Leopards' 10 and on the third try Cervino cracked through the line for a touchdown.

The Bullets tallied twice and Lafayette once in the third quarter. Gettysburg was first to score when it drove 48 yards for a tally. Kreider attempted to smash through but fumbled. However, his miscue was recovered by Rambo for the score.

Lafayette came fighting back and took the kick-off and marched 56 yards with Schofield finally going over on a short thrust.

The final tally of the afternoon came later in the same period when Ray Kreider started wide around end, cut back and scampered about 40 yards down the side-lines to reach pay dirt.

Second Victory
The victory marked the second in three starts for the Bullets and was the second time in history Lafayette has bowed to a Gettysburg team.

Coach Bream used his entire squad of 30 players during the contest and all gave a good account of themselves. The line play was satisfying while the ball totting of Cervino, Rambo and Kreider was all that was to be desired. Rambo, taking over chores as a tail-back for the first time, played all but the last minute or two and was effective in all his assignments.

Fractured Arm
The victory proved costly to Gettysburg as Jim Lewis, one of the three veterans on the squad, suffered a fracture of his lower right arm on the first play of the game and will be lost for the season. Bill Hartman, guard, another veteran, has been out for some time with an injured knee and it seems unlikely he will be able to play for some time, if at all.

Today the locals start girding for Delaware, 44-6 conquerors over Western Maryland Friday night. The Blue Hens will be met here Saturday afternoon when "Snaps" Emanuel day will be observed. About 400 residents of York, where Emanuel was coach when he was killed in an accident, are planning to attend the game in a body.

STATE TEAMS WIN 9 GAMES, DISPLAY POWER

By HERB ALTSCHULL
Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (P)—They may talk of the football prowess of the midwest, south and west coast, but Pennsylvania had reason today to be proud of the record of its colleges and universities.

In 10 clashes with out-of-state eleven last Saturday, Keystone state squads checked in with nine victories. The only interstate loss was Carnegie Tech's 25-0 defeat at the hands of Oberlin.

The Ohioans took advantage of Tech's inexperience to spoil the Pittsburgh institution's return to the football wars.

In the big all-state clash of the day Pitt and Temple battled in the rain to a scoreless deadlock at Pittsburgh. Weather and the power strike kept attendance at 5,000.

State Beats Syracuse
Penn State was one of the Pennsylvania teams that defeated an out-of-state foe. In its long-standing rivalry with Syracuse the Lions put together a field goal and touchdown for a 9-0 Saturday night victory on a muddy field at Syracuse.

Powerhouse Penn smothered the invading Dartmouth Indians from Hanover, N. H., 39-0 with Skippy Minisi's flying feet leading the way. The former Annapolis star uncorked three long touchdown runs and passed for a fourth score.

Eleven Keystone state teams boast unbeaten, untied slates. Dickinson and Thiel each with a total enrollment of less than 500, squeaked past Lebanon Valley and Slippery Rock Teachers each previously unbeaten, by identical 2-0 scores.

Close Battle
Villanova edged past Holy Cross in a bitter 14-13 battle at Worcester, Mass.

Seranton turned back Fort Monmouth, (N. J.), 39-0 while Allegheny opened its football campaign with a 7-0 victory over Earlham of Ohio. Kutztown Teachers upended Montclair, (N. J.), Teachers 20-0 and Mansfield Teachers edged Cortland, (N. Y.), Teachers 9-6.

Washington and Jefferson won its second game in three starts, downing Denison of Ohio, 12-6, and Drexel blasted City College of New York 19-0.

Muhlenberg swept to its third straight without a defeat but found Bucknell a tough adversary, winning by 6 to 0.

In other intrastate contests, these were the results:

Millersville Teachers, 13, Lock Haven Teachers, 12; Albright, 19, Juniata, 2; California Teachers, 18, Indiana Teachers, 6; East Stroudsburg Teachers, 31, Shippensburg Teachers, 7; Haverford, 7, Ursinus, 0; Gettysburg, 27, Lafayette, 14; Swarthmore, 7, Franklin and Marshall, 6.

Fred Stambaugh Quits Bullet Squad

Fred "Reds" Stambaugh, 193 pound candidate for the fullback spot on the Gettysburg College Bullet football squad, quit the team on Friday and did not accompany the local outfit to Easton for the Lafayette game on Saturday.

Stambaugh told Coach Henry T. Bream when he left the squad that he felt he "was not up to par and could not do the team any good." He merely played at York high.

Joe Cervino has been sparking the Bullets in the fullback spot for the past two weeks. Dave Pitzer, of Biglerville, is the third candidate for the fullback post.

DOZEN SCHOOLS STILL UNBEATEN IN GRID RACES

By TOM SHRIVER
Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (P)—There are still more than a baker's dozen of unbeaten scholastic grid teams for mythical or conference championships as the season swings into its last six weeks.

In the East Kulpmont sets the pace with 26 straight, the latest a 13-6 victory over Mt. Carmel, although this "streak" was marred a trifle by a scoreless tie at Berwick last week. Allentown chalked up its tenth straight over two years of competition by crushing Reading 52-0; Hershey, last year's South Penn conference king, nosed out Chambersburg, 7-0 for the fifth straight of the current campaign, while Blakely, leader of the northern division of the eastern conference made it five in a row by topping Taylor, 7-0.

The western conference race gives promise of developing into a great fight down the stretch with five of the principal contenders boasting of unbeaten records. Huntington, last year's champion, made it 20 straight by nosing out Lock Haven, 7-0; Bellwood-Antis went back into first place after a 46-0 win over Mt. Union for six straight this year; Ferndale, winner of six in a row, took over second although winning a non-conference fray from Everett, 32-0; Huntingdon held third place, and Hollidaysburg moved into fourth with its fifth straight win, a non-conference conquest of Altoona Catholic, 13-6; and Westmont, another of the unbeaten contenders, made it five in a row by crushing Ebensburg, 41-0.

Bonnell Captures Midget Racing Title

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (P)—Speedster Al Bonnell, of Erie, Pa., is the new National midget auto racing champion.

Bonnell negotiated the 100-lap grind around the one-fifth mile Langhorne speedway yesterday in one hour, six minutes and eighteen

Muhlenberg swept to its third straight without a defeat but found Bucknell a tough adversary, winning by 6 to 0.

BRECHEN PUTS CARDS IN FOR SEVENTH GAME

By JACK HAND
St. Louis, Oct. 14 (P)—Sam Breadon is selling tickets today for a seventh World Series game at Sportsman's Park because his St. Louis Cardinals have as many lives as a cat—Harry ("The Cat") Brechen.

If it weren't for the game little lefthander from Oklahoma, the Boston Red Sox would have been measured for Series rings long ago and the Red Birds would be scattered to the four winds instead of planning strategy for tomorrow's finale.

In the cold light of dawn there is room for a solid suspicion that "The Cat" and the Cards spent their last life in a 4-1 win yesterday. The Sox have Dave (Boo) Ferriss, their 25-game winner, primed for a second straight shutout bid and there is no reason to believe he won't be just as effective as he was in Boston.

The odds definitely are against the home club which will have Murray Dickson on the mound.

Rest To Help Cards

However, an extra day of rest will benefit the Cards. Marty Marion is playing with an aching back. Howie Pollet, if needed, will have more time to let his torn side muscle mend and Enos Slaughter, who played gamely in the sixth contest despite a painfully swollen right elbow, will be more like his usual self. Yesterday, the slugging right fielder contributed two nice catches and knocked Mickey Harris out of the box with a third-inning single.

Slaughter was the last Card to face the lefthanded Harris who yielded five hits, all in the third, before he was replaced by Tex Hughson. The big Texan turned back St. Louis with two hits before he went out for a pinchrunner and was replaced by Lefty Earl Johnson, against whom the Redbirds made one run in the eighth.

The Sox had given Brechen a rocky first and second inning before Harris blew up. In the first, two singles and a walk loaded the bases with one out before Whitey Kurowski started a fast double play on York's rap. Two straight singles in the second came to naught when Erv Dusak threw out Bobby Doerr, who was trying to move from first to third on Pinky Higgins' single.

Yields Seven Hits
After that Brechen steadied down and pitched the same kind of masterful game he had turned in a week ago. He retired 10 men in a row from the second to the fifth and yielded only seven hits in all. Rudy York's triple off the left centerfield wall followed by Doerr's fly to Harry Walker broke his string of 15 shutout innings in the seventh.

Catcher Del Rice opened the big third with a single to left. "The Cat" forced him at second and went to third on Red Schoendienst's double.

Terry Moore knocked home the first run with a fly and Stan Musial kept Harris in hot water by beating Johnny Pesky's throw from deep short for an infield single. Whitey Kurowski scored Schoendienst with a single and Slaughter rapped one through the box into centerfield, knocking in Musial and ending the day for Harris.

seconds to finish two laps in front of George Whitman, of Detroit. Otis Stine, of York, Pa., was third and Steve Yannigan, of Allentown, Pa., fourth.

The victory, witnessed by a crowd of 10,000 brought Bonnell the Barney Oldfield trophy and $1,000 prize money.

Sports Roundup

New York, Oct. 14 (P)—Maybe you're not picking Texas as the No. 1 college football team this week—what with Army, Notre Dame and U.L.C.A. still in the argument—Here's what one Oklahoma scout reported before last Saturday's fracas: "They don't make any mistakes, offensively or defensively, and thus will not beat themselves as so many college teams do; their quarterbacking is exceptional; they have terrific team speed, four ends who can outrun our fastest backs and the greatest collegiate forward passer in the country in Bobby Layne." The sooner scout, Walter Driskill, insisted the Texas team is so good it can telegraph its plays and get there, anyhow, by perfect execution. . . . What Driskill neglected to mention was that Oklahoma has a line which has held Army and Texas each to 83 net yards by rushing.

FINE SUPPORT

Five years ago the Tucson, Ariz., city council passed an ordinance which read: "It shall be unlawful for any visiting football player or football team to carry, convey, tote, kick, throw, pass or otherwise transport or propel any inflated pigskin across the University of Arizona goal line or score a safety within the confines of the city of Tucson, county of Pima, state of Arizona." The law still is on the books, though it never has been enforced. . . . Maybe the St. Louis city fathers should do something of the sort for the Cardinals.

DOTS ALL BROTHERS

Ted Williams is reported to have bought enough shotguns this summer to stock a sporting goods store. Maybe he should collect some of that birdshot the St. Louis Pitchers have been throwing at him. . . . Belated thought by Eddie (Lansford, Pa.) Urban anent Tami Maunier's radio remark: "It wasn't the first round Tami got careless; it was the day he signed to meet Louis."

EMMITSBURG 9 TRIPS HANOVER

Emmitsburg's baseball team took the lead in the scrap for the championship of the Penn-Maryland Baseball league by upsetting Hanover, 5-3, Sunday afternoon in the first of a three-game title series played at Emmitsburg before a large crowd.

The Marylanders pushed over a run in the first inning but fell behind when Hanover rallied for three runs in the fifth frame.

However, Emmitsburg staged a rally of its own in the last of the sixth which was good for four runs and clinched victory.

Briscuso, Emmitsburg hurler, permitted but four hits while his teammates secured 10. T. Combes led the attack for the winners with three singles.

The second game of the series will be played next Sunday afternoon at Hanover.

FAIR SPADING ADVANTAGES

Unless a green manure crop has been sown, the beds which are set aside for annual flowers will benefit from fall spading. This work may be done any time the soil is frost-free and dry enough to prevent spoiling its good mechanical condition. The benefit from this foresight will become evident early next spring when the time has arrived to sow the hardy annuals. It will then be a simple matter to level the surface for sowing, with a gain of two to three weeks obtained because the spading was done in the fall.

We believe no gasoline, even premium-priced, can equal the incomparable smoothness of Dynafuel

HERE'S WHY: ALL gasolines (including Sunoco Dynafuel) are composed of "light" and "heavy" molecules. As the gasoline goes into the cylinders from the carburetor, some of the "heavy" molecules separate from the rest of the gasoline and go to certain cylinders which get most of the "heavy" molecules, while other cylinders get mostly "light" molecules.

OTHER GASOLINES  SUNOCO DYNAFUEL
IN MOST OTHER GASOLINES the "heavy" molecules are low in octane quality. . . . but the "light" molecules are high octane. The cylinders receiving the low grade "heavy" molecules do not receive the same high knockless quality as other cylinders.
IN SUNOCO DYNAFUEL all molecules, both "heavy" and "light," deliver equally high octane power. No matter whether a cylinder receives "light" or "heavy" molecules, that cylinder and all cylinders receive uniformly high knockless quality.

Today's Talk

SISTER KENNY

I recently met Sister Kenny, the Australian nurse, whose treatment of Infantile Paralysis, has been so sensationally successful. I stood beside her, watched her manner and her talk. So quiet, so modest. She reminded me of the time when I stood beside Madame Curie, who looked so like a peasant mother, and of the time when I met and talked with Carrie Chapman Catt. All intrepid fighters.

Then I saw the picture—"Sister Kenny." It is an inspiring picture. It depicts the life story of a woman of courage and faith. It exemplifies that phrase, "greater love hath no man," for Sister Kenny gave up all—love, personal comfort—everything, that she might devote all to the saving of children's lives. This, in the face of the bitterest controversy, almost endless discouragements, bigotry, abuse and professional tradition.

But facts are facts. Proofs are proofs. Sister Kenny stands triumphant behind both these. Her methods, however, need no words of praise nor commendation, other than those that have come from the thousands of children brought back to joy, laughter, and health, by her persistent faith and courage. In their happiness has she found her ample reward.

I had to take out my handkerchief at that scene in the picture where the children rushed flowers for her birthday, as a tribute of their love and appreciation. It was dark in the theatre, when I did so, but I would have been compelled to do the same had the lights been on where I sat. Not since that picture, "The Way of All Flesh," have I been so emotionally stirred.

At long last I am happy that just appreciation has finally come to Sister Kenny. Never have I seen such a welcome to a preview in New York. Broadway was packed in front of the theatre. Traffic was stopped. Thousands cheered as the silver-haired woman stood before the crowd to thank them. Here was the enactment of another long delayed tribute to a great woman—and to one who had to come to America, from far-away Australia, to gain her proudest hour.

The power of the moving picture is very great, but never so great and important as when its art walks through the human heart, as does this picture "Sister Kenny." I hope its appearance may be worldwide, and that it will result in bringing forth the essential aid to put new strength into those healing arms of Sister Kenny, lightening the labor of her lengthening years, and inspiring others to take up, and carry on, the work she has so nobly initiated.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Sometimes We are Wrong"

HOME BUILDER

He fashioned a house from the cellar to roof.

'Gainst all sorts of weather he wanted proof.

The sturdy foundations from water were sealed.

To wind, neither doorway nor window would yield.

But when builders depart the real work must begin.

Since happiness rests on what's carried within.

Make houses as stout and as fine as you may.

'Tis the dwellers themselves must keep anger away.

The walls may resist, when the winter wind howls,

But there's never a wall that can keep away scowls.

A door may be locked against thieves through the night,

But carry rage in, and the home it will blight.

The storms on the outside will pass in the hour,

But the storms on the inside have terrible power.

The hearts of the founders of home must be stout

To keep love within, and keep bitterness out.

'Tis theirs, through the long years ahead, to make sure

That whatever may happen the home will endure

CELOSIA PLANT ADDS COLOR TO FLOWER GARDEN

The feathered celosia has long been a favorite with many gardeners. It may be found adding its brilliant color to the simple little flower garden of an old farm homestead, or in the border of the suburbanite who appreciates its ease of culture and usefulness.

The showy, large and graceful plumes are among the most brilliant flowers during the summer and autumn months. The various red, purple and yellow tones blend together beautifully for an imposing garden picture. Well grown plants, spaced sufficiently far apart to permit full development of each individual specimen, are a solid pyramid of color with a central heavy flower spike surrounded with smaller trusses on the side branches.

Truly armfuls of spikes may be cut from the plants without spoiling their attractiveness if care is taken to remove them where they are crowded together. Placed in water they will last for close to a month. The few leaves attached to the stems will require removing after about four or five days.

If wanted for winter use, hang the trusses upside down in a cool airy room soon after cutting. They will dry out rapidly if supplied with a gentle air current. When fully dry pick off the leaves and arrange in a suitable vase. To avoid too stiff an effect a few of them may be dried in their natural position for combining with the others into more graceful arrangements.

They are easy to grow from seed sown in the spring after all danger of frost is past.

Garden Activities For October Listed

Tulip planting time is at hand. If a separate hole is dug for each bulb, be sure it is large enough so that the bulb will slide firmly to the bottom and not hang suspended with an air pocket underneath and earth above.

All spring flowering bulbs may be planted now.

Lilac bushes will benefit from an application of bonemeal or wood ashes. Fall also is the best time of the year for the planting of lilacs.

Pot up narcissus, hyacinths, tulips and other bulbs for indoor forcing. Keep them in a dark place until roots form.

Many different materials can be used for winter covering such as hay, straw, cornstalks, peat moss and fallen leaves. The best material for garden covering is one that does not lose its loose nature and become sodden upon wetting.

Newly planted or transplanted trees should be wrapped with burlap to prevent drying out of the bark, to prevent sun scald and to protect them from borer infection.

For best results, separately lily-of-the-valley clumps every three or four years in early autumn. Select the strongest crowns and plant three inches apart, just below the soil surface.

Store tubers of tropical water lilies in moist sand in covered containers.

Break up the ground now, if you plan to grow vegetables on new soil, lime it and sow to winter rye.

As weeds in the lawn have lost much of their early summer vitality, dig them up at this time, fill the holes with a good garden soil and sow new seed.

Make sure that evergreen plants, both broadleaved and coniferous, do not go into the winter dry. A thorough watering shortly before the freeze-up is best.

Order deciduous trees and shrubs for late October and November planting.

Blueberries are moved successfully this month.

Things Of The Soil

Brief Notes On Onion Planting

Late October is the proper time to plant onion sets or "multipliers" for early spring green onions. This is the first vegetable planting for 1947 and deserves prompt and thorough consideration by every gardener.

Two facts merit emphasis in choosing and preparing soil for fall-planted onions: (1) The soil must be mellow and well drained; (2) It should be friable to a depth of at least 10 inches and contain a liberal balance of plant foods.

It is wise to choose a slightly sheltered location in order to promote early spring growth and escape the rigors of severe winter weather, particularly prevailing winds and alternate freezing and thawing.

There is no substitute for a naturally deep, fertile loam. But many soils are improved for onions by turning under well rotted and pulverized manure.

Commercial fertilizers usually pay big dividends. And while the recommended strength (5-7-10) is not a standard mixture, growers should use a strength near these proportions, preferably at rates of 500 to 1,000 pounds per acre. Half of the fertilizer may be applied broadcast and worked into the top soil before planting and the remainder saved for side dressing the rows in early spring.

Many commercial gardeners give their green onions a special "lift" in early March by side dressing the plants with nitrate of soda.

Each set produces a single green onion; each multiplier a bunch of shoots. Therefore, multipliers should be spaced slightly farther apart than sets. Two to three inches for sets and at least four inches for multipliers are safe spacings.

Soil should be firmed well around each bulb, with the top set upright. Like most other plants grown from bulbs, tubers or corms, onions have a definite depth of covering which should be observed—barely covering the tip.

If the soil does not heave badly in winter, no protective mulch is necessary. However, if alternate freezing and thawing occur, an airy mulch should be applied after the ground is frozen solidly. Light straw, hay or shredded corn fodder is suitable. Of course, the mulch should be removed or raked to the middle of the rows before it interferes with growth in the spring. No mulch is needed where heaving is not likely.

Green onions are the first food the garden produces in the spring. Likewise they provide the first revenue where marketing is practiced. And those who have investigated local urban markets know that rarely are grocery stores able to supply customers with high grade green onions in the spring.

Fortunately no severe insect enemies or diseases attack green onions, due to earliness of spring growth. In the few cases where the onion maggot proves troublesome, gardeners should write the editor for directions providing control of the pest.

Care Of Bulbs In Winter Described

The tender bulbs planted in the garden last spring must receive full attention just as soon as severe night frosts are expected. Tuberous-rooted begonias should be taken up even before frost has touched the foliage. Remove them with as much soil as will adhere to the corms and dry them off in a cool place with good air circulation. Ismene or Peruvial doffodil also is best taken up before the arrival of frost. Treat them the same way as begonias. The others may remain until the leaves ished food in the spring, they are rich in minerals and vitamins needed in human diets.

Readers who have not already obtained a copy of our simple onion planting directions should write for a free copy at once. Merely enclose a 3-cent stamp with name and address. Or the editor will be glad to mail copies to friends or relatives of readers.

HYDRAULIC POWER-TROL . . NEWEST DEVELOPMENT IN FARM EQUIPMENT ANNOUNCED BY LOCAL JOHN DEERE DEALER

POWR-TROL ELIMINATES LIFTING, LOWERING AND REGULATING FARM EQUIPMENT BY HAND

Farmers of this community will be interested to know that E. Donald Scott, local John Deere Farm Equipment Dealer, is announcing one of the most important new farm equipment developments in recent years—the new John Deere Hydraulic Power-Trol.

Engineered by John Deere, this time- and labor-saving device is a radical departure from the conventional method of lifting, lowering, and regulating drawn implements by hand. Safe, smooth, positive, hydraulic power does the job—relieves the operator of reaching for hand-lift levers on drawn implements, lifting and lowering by hand, and tugging on ropes. He merely drives the tractor and watches his work.

At a touch on a convenient control lever, Power-Trol raises and lowers plow bottoms or disks . . . grain drill openers . . . mower cutter bars . . . combine platforms . . . potato digger shovels, etc. — angles and straightens disk harrow gangs — instantly changes working angle, depth, or height of drawn implements to meet varying field and crop conditions without stopping the tractor or even slowing down.

According to E. Donald Scott, Power-Trol operates drawn implements by means of a single remote cylinder which attaches to the implement and is connected to the tractor by two hoses. The cylinder has a double action. Moving the control lever backward or forward exerts hydraulic pressure through the hoses in either direction to force a piston rod in or out of the cylinder, thereby actuating the equipment. This not only assures a positive lift but it also forces and holds

Plant Spanish Iris Before Freeze Comes

Spanish Iris belong to the bulbous group which requires fall planting. They may be placed in the beds or borders any time before the soil freezes. A rich and rather sandy soil is best, but average garden soil will give satisfactory results. Like most other bulbs, they form their roots at the base so that preparation of the soil six inches below the bulbs is more important than that surrounding them. They like three or four inches of sandy soil about their tips, and five to six inches is about right between them.

If planted in early fall, they likely will send up some leaves, and where this occurs a cover of some sort which will not hold winter moisture is advisable. They are perfectly hardy where drainage is good and will last for several years even where conditions are not of the best.

Avoid Ring-Rot Spread—Be careful about spreading ring-rot to potatoes that are to be used for seed. Penn State extension plant pathologists urge disinfecting containers with formaldehyde solution.

Dig Another Grave

By DON CAMERON

(AP Newsfeature)

Chapter 23
Howard Morrissey, successful businessman, came first.

"A twenty-five-thousand-dollar motive for killing Searle," Cloud said, "plus a grudge that may have meant more than money. You made threats against him. The night of the murder you'd lost your last reasonable hope of getting back the money he'd stolen. No one saw you during the hour in which the murder was committed; you claim you were in your office with Hemingway, discussing business. Neither of you qualifies as an unprejudiced witness for the other. Your office door was locked, but I happen to know there are secret ways in and out. Either or both of you could have killed Searle."

George Ennis, ultra-respectable publisher of an ultra-respectable newspaper, squirmed with the realization that it was his turn.

"You," said Cloud, "are without an alibi that can be proven for the time of either murder. You were being blackmailed by Searle."

Ennis sat tongue-tied and perspiring as Cloud turned his attention to the next suspect.

Lee Dexter, dapper and brilliant, fingered his waxed yellow mustache nervously.

There was sympathy in Cloud's glance and in his voice. "I've managed to get so little on you, Dexter, that I'd just as soon skip it for the present if you don't mind."

"You can skip it forever," Dexter replied. "I don't fancy the idea of being charged with murder."

Cloud, said coldly, "You're a star suspect, Hemingway. You'd have killed Searle willingly, either as a chore for Morrissey or to relieve your personal feelings. If Mrs. Messmer had been dangerous because of anything she knew, you wouldn't have hesitated about her, either. You have a record that could convict you of practically anything all by itself. Besides, other indications that you're the man we want are numerous and impressive."

"I don't know what all you've got," Hemingway said, "but I'll sure be surprised if you pin those things on me, because I didn't do them."

Bill Doran, seated beside Hemingway, ran a thick hand through his iron-gray hair and chuckled suddenly. His nervousness had vanished; he was once more the veteran of the city desk, weighing his fellowmen in scales counterbalanced with type metal.

What's so funny? Cloud asked.

"Just that Hemingway put into words exactly what I was thinking," said Doran. "I wouldn't be here if I'd minded my own business, and it occurred to me that it would be quite a joke if you decided, after looking over the others, that I was the likeliest one of the lot."

"Did you have any personal reason for wanting to expose Searle?" "Lieutenant," said Doran, "I did not. And I'm sorry I opened my big mouth a minute ago. On second thought, the idea of pinning it on me doesn't seem funny."

"Maybe we'll come back to you," Cloud told him. "I can't afford to overlook any bets."

He swung his regard to the next suspect in order and Doran breathed a sigh of relief.

Martin King.

"Too cocky altogether," Cloud said. "First the impulse, then the act, then the thinking about it. Many a homicide happens just that way."

"You sure are stubborn," Martin murmured.

"Your intellect may function tardily, but it's capable of seeing the black marks against you as clearly as I could outline them. So just remember that if I don't get my bigger game, I can always fall back on you."

Martin made no reply. Of the seven on trial at the round table only one remained to be indicted. There was a sharp heightening of tension which Martin did not quite understand. He noted that Ennis' face was white and sickly, that Dexter had straightened, that even Morrissey seemed more interested than when his own case had been upon discussion.

Barbara Ennis sensed the change. She stiffened.

"I've read your letters to Searle, Miss Ennis, as you know," Cloud said slowly. "They tell nothing except that at one time you expected to become his wife and eventually discovered you had made a bad mistake. They indicate a degree of intimacy that could be made to seem about as bad as he'd want to make it. Standards of modesty change with the times, but a girl's reputation is still her biggest asset; and there isn't any question that your reputation would have been at stake if he'd succeeded in dragging your name into his trial."

"You had something of tremendous importance to fight for when Searle left the Gold Mine club that night with your letters. He went to King's apartment and you arrived there shortly afterward. King found you both minutes later—and one of you had been murdered."

"You—you make it sound pretty hopeless," she said, breathing hard. "The evidence is circumstantial."

Mrs. Grace Mentzer and Miss Caroline McNulty have been spending several weeks in McKeesport and Pittsburgh.

Miss Anne Codori left Friday for Philadelphia where she will attend

Cloud remarked, "but it's so nearly conclusive I find it difficult to explain even to myself why I haven't asked for a warrant naming you."

Martin's whole being rebelled at the brutal logic of Cloud's argument and its effect on Barbara. He was about to say something, anything, in protest when Cloud changed his tactics abruptly, leaning back and including all of them in the challenge of his narrowed eyes.

"All right, ladies and gentlemen," Cloud said. "That's my contribution to the program. I have several choice suspects and if necessary I'll take them all to headquarters and have the truth sweat out. But first I'll wait exactly two minutes, which will be ample time for one of you to decide to confess or to squeal on someone else; frankly, I don't care which."
